Executive overview

The central umbrella organisation of Hungarian community infrastructure in Austria.

The Central Association of Hungarian Associations and Organisations in Austria was founded on 9 February 1980, originally as the umbrella organisation of 21 Hungarian associations in Austria. Its role is to coordinate cooperation among member organisations, represent the interests of the Hungarian ethnic group, and operate central functions that exceed the capacity of individual member organisations: Hungarian-language education, press and publishing, cultural programmes, conferences and shared remembrance.

This page presents the organisation's role in its current digital operating layer: the online ecosystem, the member-organisation network and the DÖR 2026 pilot.

Online hierarchy · internal digital system

The online operating backbone of the Central Association.

A digital root point connecting education , media , the creative community , theatre and press visibility — while giving every member organisation a place inside one interpretable online structure.

Central organisation · digital root point

Community entry point · Facebook structure

Projects do not scatter across separate Facebook pages; they connect as groups under the central page . One logic, many active community spaces.

The central page administrator has access to every project group . The structure is still being built, but the surfaces already work .

Vienna Hungarian School Facebook group Parent, school and community communication.

Bécsi Napló Facebook group Article sharing, reader connection and community feedback.

VIPACH Facebook group Creative community, programme communication and activity.

Musical Company Facebook group Rehearsals, performances, family and audience connection.

Education and family subsystem

The community's next-generation and family pillar : weekend Hungarian education , age-group activities, parent communication, reports and questionnaires.

2026.magyariskola.at School-year report and results communication: what happened, who worked on it and what community value was created.

kerdoiv.magyariskola.at Feedback and contact surface: provides data to improve operations and understand family needs.

ORF Magyarok press monitor A collection of ORF Magyarok appearances, proving the public visibility of the community work.

rolunk.at press monitor Rólunk.at articles and appearances: external media validation of the school's community role.

Wikipedia · Vienna Hungarian School Structured, searchable public-awareness layer: the community is not only active, it is identifiable as an online entity.

Facebook group Daily parent and community connection, programme sharing and community activity.

WhatsApp group system Fast internal communication by group; entry information is available through the community surfaces.

Edited Hungarian media surface

The community's edited public surface : articles document and make searchable the events of Hungarian life in Austria.

Bécsi Napló Facebook group Community reach, reader connection, article sharing and fast feedback.

Creative, visual and community branch

The creative and visual branch : photography, creator community and digital presence. It is sustained not by external investment , but through community financing , including its programmes and visibility.

business.vipach.at Strategic and service subpage: shows how community creative knowledge can connect to professional visual and digital tasks.

AmCham Austria connection Through Bánhalmi Norbert, VIPACH is also connected to the professional environment of AmCham Austria, the Austrian-American Chamber of Commerce.

photostudio.vipach.at Creative / image-processing subsystem: a digital tool and service extension under VIPACH.

Wikipedia · VIPACH Structured entity layer: the organisation is publicly identifiable, searchable and referable.

VIPACH press monitor A collection of VIPACH media and press appearances: external visibility, articles and public validation in one place.

Bánhalmi Norbert press monitor Rólunk.at appearances connected to VIPACH's founder and creative-strategic visibility.

VIPACH Facebook group Creative community, programme communication, member activity and community visibility.

Theatre and youth-cultural branch

Hungarian-language stage, music and children/youth creative work. Here the Hungarian language is not a subject, but a living cultural experience .

Musical Company Facebook group Community organisation, rehearsals, performances, parent and audience connection.

The ecosystem shown below is technically complete . Active operation begins in early September , once every surface has an assigned owner and the operating processes start.

Wix-based central operations

The entire online ecosystem can also be managed from mobile.

Not a collection of separate websites , but a unified Wix environment . Media, events, online payments, members, newsletters and permissions — all manageable from one mobile app .

Permission levels are separated: editor, event manager, communication and finance lead, membership manager and administrator. No single person carries the whole load — everyone sees what belongs to their task. The structure is still being built; the main surfaces already work .

DÖR 2026 · Diaspora Ecosystem Framework

A voluntary pilot for diaspora visibility, renewal through young operators and stronger community autonomy.

DÖR 2026 is a living diaspora-relationship pilot. It does not collect data about the diaspora; it builds a living relationship with the diaspora : it makes organisational profiles, events, community stories, young operators and local connection points visible.

The starting point is not theoretical. The Vienna model has already produced practical experience on a small scale; the pilot's aim is to turn this into an auditable, voluntary, opt-out and scalable operating logic within 90–120 days .

Which pain does it solve?

In many places, diaspora communities work invisibly : events, schools, clubs, community stories and volunteer achievements often remain in local channels. DÖR turns these into a living, searchable and updateable operating picture .

What is the first product?

Organisational profile, event calendar, Junior Hub access and basic activity feedback. Not a complete global system, but the smallest provable pilot core that shows whether organisations use it and whether young operators can be involved.

What protects autonomy?

Voluntary, opt-out and non-controlling. It does not rank, distribute funding, appoint representatives, decide legitimacy, or collect political or worldview-related data .

What is the decision gate?

After 90–120 days: Go / Modify / Stop. If it works, it can scale; if it needs improvement, it can be modified; if it does not prove community value or the risk cannot be closed, it can be stopped .

Member organisation map

Austria is not a single point. It is a network.

The Central Association operates not only its own projects , but a member-organisation network spanning several regions, functions and generations . Here every organisation is visible individually , by region and role.

How can DÖR help?

Visibility becomes operational strength.

The goal is not for the system to decide “from above” who represents what. The goal is to make already active community work visible, searchable, supportable and ready for generational transition.

Shared data sheet and updateable profile

Every member organisation can have a unified minimum profile: activities, programmes, region, contact, languages and operational focus.

Shared programme calendar and programme transfer

Events do not appear in isolation. It becomes visible what can be transferred from Vienna to Graz, Salzburg, Linz or Tyrol.

Young editors and next generation

Young people can join not only as a target group but as operators: content, archive, events, digital profile and community feedback.

More transparent decision preparation

The network's strengths, missing data and regional connections are visible in one place. This provides a strong basis for funding, professional and organisational decisions.

Autonomy and data-protection firewall

The system does not collect political data, appoint representatives or allocate funding. Organisational control and voluntariness are core principles.

Resource and cooperation map

It shows where strong educational, cultural, church, youth or professional nodes exist — and where joint development makes sense.

Contact

Central office and administration.
